Hypothyroidism in Childhood and Adulthood

A personal perspective and scientific standpoint

By C Phillips and D Roach

2006 Paperback 81 pp.
ISBN 1-904761-36-4
£13.50

The authors of this book are identical twin sisters who have both suffered from hypothyroidism during childhood and again during adulthood (due to a reduction in their treatment). They have therefore been able to describe experiences of hypothyroidism from a personal perspective. As they both have a Bachelor of Science degree, they were also able to document their experiences from a scientific standpoint.

Contents

Glossary • Hypothyroidism from a personal perspective • The evaluation of changes in thyroxine (T4) dose by objective and subjective means in adult identical twin sisters who have been treated for hypothyroidism since childhood • The evaluation of a thyroxine (T4) dose increase • The evaluation of tri-iodothyronine (T3) inclusion with thyroxine (T4) treatment • The evaluation of increases in tri-iodothyronine (T3) and decreases in thyroxine (T4) treatment • The evaluation of increases in natural desiccated thyroid (NDT) treatment (porcine derived) and decreases in tri-iodothyronine (T3) treatment • Reflections • Appendices
